

(above left) 7 Greek doll made in the fifth century B.C. Jointed terracotta. 5 in. high. (above right) 8 Girl doll of first-century Rome. Jointed body carved in some detail. Wears a gold bangle and ring. (below left) 9 The Kachina of the Hopi Indians were gaudily painted and decorated with feathers. After initiation ceremonies, they were used for the instruction of children. 10½ in. high. (below right) 10 Figs strung on cord and decorated with scraps of fabric, create a doll-like toy. Sheerga village, Kandahar, Afghanistan. 14 in. high.

